FROM YOUR EDITOR

With everyone's help we think Arkansas Genealogical Society, Inc., already has a good start. Many of our members have sent valuable material, which is already waiting for publication in a future issue this year. If you have information on a Family in Arkansas, or a Family who has lived in Arkansas, that you would like to share with us, we would like to know about it. Some of our members may have additional information on the very family you may be having problems with and a small clue may be just what you need. This is your Quarterly, so let us know what you are working on and share with us.

Many have expressed nice remarks about recent issues and several have requested information about South Arkansas, Randolph Perry, and Yell Counties. If you have material on people in those areas, maybe you can make some one happy.

A new Researcher's list has been revised for 1974, for a copy please send a large self-addressed stamped envelope with a request to: 4200 "A", Little Rock, Ark. 72205

Remember the Clerk's in the Courthouses are not paid to help researchers and often do not know how to suggest, where to search. You may save time and gas to ask for help. Also see the Query Section of this Magazine for Assistance.

Our many thank to those members who have sent their renewals to our Membership Chairman, Mrs. Robert G. Hubbard, this has been a new record, as 200 paid by the end of January. This is very important, as many things are necessary before Bulk Mailing can be done. Since postage has increased again, this is really important!

PLEASE help us to continue to cut expenses by sending in a change of address when you move. Every Quarterly returned costs a minimum of 64¢. We want you to have your Quarterly on time so remember to notify in plenty of time, and be sure we have the correct Zip Code.

When you get a chance, visit the Camden Library and the room especially for Genealogy, that is the home of the Arkansas Genealogy Society's Library, and new Exchange Issues will be added in the near future.

Mrs. Willma H. Newton, presented a GAVEL to the Arkansas Genealogical Society in December 1973, when she became a Past President. This will be treasured by many future Presidents.

A four drawer file cabinet and stapler is also owned by Arkansas Genealogical Society, at this time.

Several requests for back issues have been received, and some few are available. Please make check payable to: Arkansas Genealogical Society, Inc. for $1.50 each. (4200 "A", L. R.)

Commer- CHILDRESS--At Williston, Tenn. Friday December 7, 1900, cial Thomas J. Childress, aged 80 years, father of Mrs. W. B.
 Appeal Mills. Funeral will take place from Stanley & Co.'s this (Saturday) morning at 10 o'clock. Interment at Elmwood Cemetery.

Capt. T. J. Childress.

Information came to relatives in this city yesterday afternoon, from Williston, Tenn. that Capt. T. J. Childress had died at that place. There was no especial surprise in the announcement, as deceased was 80 years of age and very feeble. Capt. Childress was a resident of Memphis until about seven years ago, when he went to Williston to spend the remaining days of his life with his daughter, Mrs. W.
 B. Mills. Many years ago, and until his sight became too imperfect to further continue the work, he was a steamboat pilot and one of the best on the river, his service being mainly with local trade packe_. The remains will be interred in Elmwood this morning, the funeral occuring from Stanley's undertaking establishment.

Our thanks to Mr. Smith for sharing this bible record with our members. He seeks information on Capt. T. J. Childress, who was probably in Phillips County, Arkansas, and who died 1900; Haskell migrated from Rhode Island and Massachusetts; Henderson B. Coyle of Dallas County, Texas (Childress stayed with Coyle before death in 1900 and they were cousins). Henderson B. Coyle's daughter claimed to be among the First Families of Virginia.

If anyone can assist Mr. Smith, please write to him at 624 Alta Avenue, Santa Monica, California 80402.

READINGS FROM GRAVESTONES in CEMETERY at DOUGLASS, Lincoln Co. Ark.
in July 1971 and May 1973 by Bert Page and Kathryn Lee Smith

These readings were taken on two visits to the old cemetery at Douglas. We would never have found it alone, but a kind young man living nearby knew the spot well as he was a member of the Douglass Baptist Church who makes an attempt to maintain the graves and do an occasional cleanup. It was a very overgrown spot in the middle of a cornfield.

-FAMILY SKETCHES NOTED DOWN AT THE REQUEST OF MY CHILDREN-

It is regretted that people in general are so careless in keeping their family history, not only is it interesting to those who may come after, but fortunes are frequently lost for the want of such evidence. Even now in trying to recall our family history I have to depend on my memory alone and tho I can remember facts I cannot give dates, not having the usual Bible Records to refer to for your Father's family.

Mungo and Robert Douglass (brothers) left Scotland in the old story phrase to seek their fortune, Mungo went to the British Indies and settled in Jamaica where the family heard he died single and left a large fortune. The other brother Robert settled on the Potomac U. S. and married Miss Annie Wallace of Maryland; by whom he had two sons, Robert and John Wallace, who married Miss May Manly and died leaving an infant son named Robert Harrison (your father). Dr. Robert Douglass died single.

Miss Manly was the daughter of Harrison Manly, who owned a farm adjoining the Mount Vernon estate; which was sold to General Washington after the death of Mr. Manly, who left four children, one son and three daughters, the eldest of whom married an Englishman named Aldridge. The next was your father's mother; the youngest married Dr. Wm. Wright; their mother was Margaret Barry before marriage, which family claimed descent from the Earl of Barrymore and missed a large fortune by losing the records to prove their claim, as in the case of Mungo Douglass, the papers were put into the hands of an eminent lawyer of Alexandria, Mr. Swan, whose office was burned and those papers with it.

Now I will tell all I know of my family. Early in the last century two Scotsmen probably brothers settled in the Valley of Conecogue Pennsylvania - driven by religious persecution from their native land. Fergus McLean was the head of the family from whom descended the late Chief Justice John McLean - so much I learned from his obituary - he removed from Penn. to Ohio. The other Donald McLean was the founder of our branch, the change in spelling the name was done by our Uncle John, who living in the same town with John McLean, afterward well known as Chief Justice. Their letters would be exchanged at the Post Office, so to prevent that, the change was made. Our Grandfather was a farmer from all I could learn, prosperous and wealthy in such property as Northern farmers have. His farm was sold at his death for $100. per acre. He employed a number of hired hands. He married Miss Margaret Hatchet, by whom he had nine sons; five of them lived to manhood. His wife must have been a model farmer's wife; my father has told me that she had all the clothing, including bed clothes spun and woven at home. She also kept a large dairy and sold a great deal of butter and in the summer when it became too warm to save butter she usually made 500 lbs. of cheese each summer for sale besides supplying her own large family. Her mode of making blankets was new at least to me. The cloth all wool was woven thick and soft, then put in a large smoth trough which was then filled with warm soap suds, then the boys rolled up their pants and danced on it until well pulled (fine fun they thought it) when clean and dry it was carded with Teazle Burrs I have been told that woolen manufacturers have found no substitute for the Teazle Burrs yet, she also made printed linen for bed curtains and windows. The linen was spun, wove and bleached she procured stamps and colors. Many other anecdotes are greatly to her praise have I heard, but the highest compliment was from an old friend of my father's, who said it was believed in the neighborhood that she had a Brownie or domestic Fairy who did all her work, which proves that she did not fuss or scold - no wonder her husband was inconsolable after her death, only surviving her one week. His physician said he certainly died of a broken heart if anyone ever did. After his death the family was broken up, his brother was absent attending Congress in Philadelphia, when he returned he sold off everything and put the boys who were old enough to trades.

The eldest, Jeremiah about eighteen, took his portion by the laws of premogeniture as then existing in Penn. this was one half of the estate; he went to the then territory of Ohio, began his career as a surveyor, rose rapidly, was an intimate friend of Gen. Cass and represented a district of Ohio in Congress. He took charge of his youngest brother Patrick; a very small boy when his parents died. John also refused to stay where his uncle put him and he settled in Ohio, afterward he came to Ark. and was a merchant in Little Rock for many years. He died wealthy, my father was poorer than either of his brothers, he was apprenticed to a carpenter and learned the trade. Having an education and superior business talents he soon escaped from the drudgery of the business and became an architect and under his supervision some of the most elegant public buildings in Washington and Alexandria have been built. Bad health obliged him to retire to the country. He bought a farm in Fairfax County and settled there but when planting became the rage he and your father both sold their farms at a sacrifice and after a toilsome drag over a stone turnpike to Wheeling, 300 miles, found the Ohio so low they feared it would freeze up before they could get out. No steamboat could get over the Falls at Louisville so they bought one of those immense flats 90 ft. long and put all our live stock on board, run up partitions; one room for ourselves and one for the servants and one for the horses, eight in number. We left our old homes on the 4th of Nov. 1823 and arrived at the old post Jan. 16th 1824 and squatted on the Indian lands where the plantation of Mr. S. Lennox now stands. When the lands came into market preferring a front on the river, they sold their claim to Mr. Lennox and removed to this place in 1827, where they have remained ever since. Our family history from this time some of you may write for others.

I should be very ungrateful to omit mention in this family record, of my Grandfather and Grandmother Turner, the parents of my mother, with whom I resided from the time my parents moved into the country until I left school. They were the best old people in the world and to me the most affectionate and indulgent of parents. My Grandmother's name was Elizabeth Blanchard before marriage. My Grandfather's was Alexander W. Turner, both families came originally from France as the names show. Teneur being Anglicised into Turner. The family said they were Hugonots who escaped before the massacre of St. Bartholemew. I had the dictionary they studied English from. My Grandfather went into the revolution at eighteen years of age. He was born at Perth Amboy, N. J. His mother was a widow in reduced circumstances who died in his house in Alexandria. She was chiefly remarkable for her family pride. My Grandfather received an appointment in the Navy Yard Washington, that supported his family very comfortably, they had but two children the eldest Mary, my mother married Isaac McLain, my father. They had two children, myself the eldest, the other John Blanchard died single. He was the noblest specimen of manhood I ever saw. I must add I am proud of my descent from parents and grandparents who lived unblemished lives and have passed into the Rest prepared for the Faithful.

CONFEDERATES TO BRAZIL

By Inez E. Cline
(Garland County, Ark. Historian)

Have you lost a Confederate Ancestor or his brother? Descendants may now be living in Brazil, South America. Between the years 1865-1868 five ships, four sailing from New Orleans and one from Galveston Texas, set their course southward. These 1,800 people including Confederate Soldiers, their families and sympathizers, were originally from Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Mississippi, Alabama, Tennessee, Arkansas, Louisiana and Texas. Four of the ships landed in Santos, which is the seaport for Sao Paulo, a fifth landed at Belen, Northern Brazil and families settled in Belem and Santarem. In 1968 a monument was erected on the 100 Anniversary of the last ship's arrival in Brazil.

This past summer a visit was made to descendants of John Rowe born 1846, left Florida 1866, died Villa Americana 1922. John Rowe, son of Rev. Steven H. Rowe of Garland County, Arkansas (who married 2nd Mrs. Elizabeth(Joiner) Murphy Smith) is buried in the Confederate Cemetery at Santa Barbara d'Oiest, Sao Paulo State, Brazil.

All of the second generation Rowes have passed on, the third generation speaks English with a Southern accent, the 4th and 5th only speak Portuguese and have married Brizilians or Brazilian Italians. Many family traits and resemblances that have passed down in the Brizilian descendants also show in their Arkansas Cousins who are called "their cousins from the North" (Primos do Norte).

Letter of May, 1973 from the U. S. Consulate, Henry G. Krausse, Jr., Sao Paulo, Brazil states in part- "The Descendants of the Americans who came to Brazil following the Civil War are now scattered throughout the country. Many are still concentrated in the towns of Villa Amerecana and Santa Barbara d'Oesta, also in the City of Campinas located about 60 or 70 miles from the City of Sao Paulo. Most of the descendants no longer speak English, some families have retained the language as well the traditions of our Southern States. The original families have established a Confederate Cemetery on a farm not far from Santa Barbara d'Oeste, and this has been faithfully maintained by the descendants, who gather there from all of Brazil twice a year for picnics and Memorial Services..."

Mrs. Judith MacKnight Jones, has written in Portuguese a history of the descendants entitled "Soldado Descansa (Soldiers Rest). She hopes to get her book translated in English and interest a motion picture company in making a movie of the exciting adventures of these galent men. Their ship's journey, near tragedy off coast of Cuba, landing in a strange country and the struggle to establish themselves in a new land.

QUERIES

Will those of you who clearly write your name and address on all material, please bear with me while I continue to stress this necessity? Two good queries can not be used this time: (1) no name or address (2) name only. Perhaps the name and address was on the envelope but by the time these are passed around and I finally get to the process of editing them the envelope is separated and no way to identify it.

A rubber name and address stamp is a good investment. Use it freely ON EACH PAGE, PLEASE.

Now it is an easy step from admonishing you to clearly mark your correspondence to admonishing you to mark all material you collect. On each item you collect list the source and date collected. (1) Name and address of person giving information. (2) Name, author, publisher and date of book and it is also good to list the library where the book was obtained. (3) List Name, date, page and column of newspaper. (4) On census records list county, state, year, township and family number and page. (5) Others - enough information to clearly identify. As you become more experienced you will want to re-check to see that your notes are correct, obtain copies for proof of records and refer others to check your source. The marking of material will save much search time and consider the value it will add to your work when it is passed on to someone in the next generation. Many family histories are being published without documentation. They may have beautiful printing and binding but without proof of material they are worthless.

Proof that the written account is not always accurate appeared in a recent issue of a local newspaper. This was an interesting and well written story of an old house built in 1837 and still owned and inhabited by descendants of the original owner. The original owner is buried in the local cemetery and would have been age 3 years when he built the house. The family did not appear on the county census until 1870. The first deed to the family in the county records was 1866 but the deed for the house site was not obtained until 1871. The story was written from personal interviews and a trip to the county library, courthouse or cemetery was never considered. This 35 years mistake may well cause hours of fruitless search and frustration by future generations.

Please send you queries to a member of the genealogical assistance committee. This will save the secretary the trouble of forwarding them and you will get a quicker response.
